

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA SECOND ECCLESIASTICAL JURISDICTION

STATE YOUTH DEPARTMENT

PROSPECTUS

PREPARED & SUBMITTED BY:

EVANGELIST TAHAITI L. TINSLEY, YPWW PRESIDENT
EVANGELIST SEANTEA STEWART, YPWW CHAIRLADY

BISHOP CHARLES G. NAUDEN, PRELATE | MOTHER GLORIA LYNCH, SUPERVISOR OF WOMEN

THE PRELIM

The vision of our Jurisdictional Bishop, Bishop Charles G. Nauden, is evident. We must stand and build on the solid foundation that has been laid within Southern California Second Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction. It is clear that we are answering the clarion call of self-sacrificing leadership and excellence within ministry. He cares for and desires to see the Youth Department of this Jurisdiction become an effective and efficient Ministry.

Within youth ministry, the focus must be sincere and serious; and the communication must be open and honest so that young people (both the un-churched and those within the house of faith) are ministered to, and that their needs are met with care. For all of the aforementioned to be executed, there must be a consistent effort, by all youth workers, to remain on the frontlines; and they must remain committed until we are able to see this come to pass.

With assuredness, this So. CA Second Jurisdiction Youth Department Proposal is submitted to the Office of the Jurisdictional Bishop. The proposal is based upon innovative ideas, sensitive insight, and careful evaluation for proficient ministry to come forth from this department - that is corresponding to the vision of Bishop Charles G. Nauden.

Humbly Submitted,

Evangelist Tahaiti L. Tinsley
Southern California Second Jurisdiction President

THE STRATEGIC PLAN

Leadership

It is our belief that the obvious difference between being successful and unsuccessful is often defined by the quality of planning. The dialogue with the Chairlady, all District Presidents and District Chairladies, all Local Youth Leaders and Workers will be critical and expected for this plan to be successful. Below, the various components of our strategic plan are outlined for the coming year so that a clear and concise unified voice is communicated from youth leadership to the youth.

Continuous Leadership Training and Development

The success of any ministry is predicated upon the leadership and staff. Ongoing encouragement, leadership training and development, and spiritual growth will all be essential for youth leaders to become and/or remain effective. The following would be a plan of action to ensure proper training for each youth leader:

Attend Monthly Jurisdictional Leadership Sessions

Ensure all Local and District youth workers have the comprehensive training packet that's made available by the IYD.

Departmental Staff Orientation

Continuous unified communication between Jurisdiction Youth Leadership and Jurisdiction Youth Workers

Help all Local Church Youth Ministry Leaders embrace the fundamentals of Youth Ministry

Help all Local Church Youth Ministries establish consistent Y.P.W.W. classes, Young Men of Valor, and Young Women of Excellence platforms.

Youth

As we all know, the communication of our youth amongst one another is technology driven. As youth ministry, we too must rethink and retool to meet our youth in the various areas of their communication. In many instances, they don't hear from youth leadership until Sunday and/or Bible Study time if then at all. This is a critical mistake.

What is the answer?

It is our belief that we should be on the frontlines communicating everyday within the same areas that they communicate with one another. Whether it be "Twitter", "Facebook", Instagram", Texts, or Email, there is a need to utilize all of these points of contact being that this is the 21st century.

THE CHALLENGE

The So. California Second Jurisdiction Youth Department has a tremendous opportunity to help shape the lives of countless youth. The opportunity is a challenge. This challenge is enormous. However, the need for every church to try with valiant efforts is a must. Our International AIM Chairman, Supt. Linwood Dillard, said it best: “No church can do everything that needs to be done for youth’s sake, but they should seek to do the most needful things and do them well.”

The needs and the challenges are clear. Based on a recent report done by the Center for Disease Control, Teenage Pregnancy is on the rise here in Southern California within the very communities in which our Jurisdictions have churches. There’s no doubt that our Youth Department can help curve these statistics as well as the other outstanding and non-communicated problems that our youth face today.

Let me reiterate that the challenges are clear. However, there is promise based on the very fact that I present this to you today along with the other countless testimonies of people who were once youth in our Jurisdiction that have become great men and women of God and have lived and are living successful secular lives as well. To downsize these challenges and help ensure other testimonies are brought to the forefront, the Youth Department of Southern California Second Jurisdiction, will follow the plan of our Jurisdictional Bishop as well as follow the IYD in the areas of Christian Education, Youth Programs, and all other given plan of actions as well.

It is our belief that our Youth Department must seize the moment and assist our young people with the inescapable challenges that are before them. We can be the young people’s first choice as a resource to guide them to Christ, help them stay with Christ, and be leaders in this challenging world during these perilous times in which we live. We are appropriately named “Young People Willing Workers”. The challenge in which we will give to each youth worker will be true willing workers. Not just any willing worker will be asked to be a part of this team, but every willing worker must be willing to be a vital part of “Youth Ministry on the Frontlines”.
